PROLENE BRUSHES

Synthetic fibre brushes with not only the appearance of fine quality sable, but with a similar degree of spring and the same very fine pointing qualities. Altogether, these brushes are of an excellent quality at such an inexpensive price compared to the real thing. In many cases a Prolene synthetic brush may have a longer lifespan than a comparable brush made from natural filaments.

Series 101

Black handles with gold tip. Round. Good full shape with very fine point.

SOFT GRIP

Every brush in this range - for oil, acrylic or water colour; man-made or natural fibre - sells for the same price regardless of size. They all have short, clear acrylic handles with an integral 'grip' area and look good. OK, they may not be the best quality, but definitely worth a look! There is a wide range of materials & styles, but a limited range of sizes.
